To Whom It May Concern:

I highly recommend the coaching and training services of Andrea Strom-Rancourt. I attended Andrea's business skills seminars and workshops and received coaching in resume/presentation letter writing and job interview skills.

Andrea also coached me in the development of an optimistic attitude and stress reducing strategies, such as the practice of relaxation techniques and positive affirmations and visualizations.

Andrea's excellent professional services have enabled me to develop greater self-esteem, and confidence.

Andrea helped me through the difficult stages of searching out sources for employment, and actively coached me in simulated job interviews. The coaching has enabled me to have more assurance and self-confidence to successfully find employment.

Sincerely,

H Abramovitch
