SUBJECT: TESTIMONIAL LETTER

Andrea Strom-Rancourt provided invaluable service to me shortly after I returned to Canada after living abroad several years. I had enjoyed a successful freelance writing career before leaving Ontario and, upon my return to Canada, hoped not only to resume my business but also to integrate myself in the Montreal professional environment.

Andrea has helped me by providing much-needed resources including contacts with key personnel, advice gleaned from her own experience as an entrepreneur, and the insight to suggest ways I might improve myself and my situation. Together we have worked not only on my professional goals, but personal issues as well. She has provided a holistic approach that balanced the concerns of the workforce with family, relocation, transition, etc.

Perhaps her greatest contribution has been her ability to help me identify both long-term and short-term goals. Andrea is particularly effective at asking incisive questions designed to enable me to decide what I most want from my career and the steps required to achieve success. Best of all, she has demonstrated a real desire for me to reach my full potential.

Andrea is a warm person with a caring attitude towards others. She treats each of her clients as an individual with unique talents, gifts, skills, and challenges. She is not only motivated to help others, but also dedicated to achieving results. She has been my sounding board, a mentor, and a sympathetic friend.

Yours Sincerely,

J Haskett
