To whom it may concern,

I worked with Andrea Strom, to help establish a stronger support structure within my career growth process. She brought a special strength to the coaching process- her strong family values, consistency and the resourceful applicability of her professional insights.

It was a pleasure to work with her and it allowed me to expand on my own strengths and capabilities. I would strongly recommend Andrea for the extra added value that she will bring to the coaching processes both professionally and spiritually. Which is an integral part of growing as well as evolving towards rewarding success.

Warm Regards,
